

From: Jacob Bevier bevier19jac@icloud.com

Subject: Re: Availability for a brief call

Date: December 5, 2025 at 2:16:00 PM

To: Jim Johnson jjohnson@sprayproducts.com

Cc: Andrew Wills awills@sprayproducts.com, Joyce Stasky joyce@sprayproducts.com, sarahjbraganini@gmail.com sarahjbraganini@gmail.com

Good afternoon Jim,

Just wanted to check the status on this and if it shipped?

Very respectfully,

Jacob Bevier

7604903416

On Nov 25, 2025, at 2:39 PM, Jim Johnson <jjohnson@sprayproducts.com> wrote:

Hi Jacob,

The samples will ship tomorrow. In our initial test we were ~ 40 inches.

Thanks! Jim

From: Jacob Bevier <bevier19jac@icloud.com>

Sent: Tuesday, November 25, 2025 12:58 PM

To: Jim Johnson <jjohnson@sprayproducts.com>

Cc: Andrew Wills <awills@sprayproducts.com>; Joyce Stasky <joyce@sprayproducts.com>; sarahjbraganini@gmail.com

Subject: Re: Availability for a brief call

Jacob Bevier

105 Pendleton Trail

Tyrone, GA 30290

Very respectfully, Jacob Bevier 7604903416

On Nov 25, 2025, at 9:43 AM, Jim Johnson <jjohnson@sprayproducts.com> wrote:

Hi Jacob,

We understand the goal. What is your shipping address for samples? Let's have you evaluate a sample and then jump on a call with any necessary changes.

Thanks! Jim

From: Jacob Bevier <bevier19jac@icloud.com>

Sent: Tuesday, November 25, 2025 9:35 AM

To: Andrew Wills <awills@sprayproducts.com>

Cc: Jim Johnson <jjohnson@sprayproducts.com>; Joyce Stasky <joyce@sprayproducts.com>;
sarahjbraganini@gmail.com

Subject: Availability for a brief call

Hi Andrew and Jim,

I was hoping I could jump on a short call with you guys — even ten minutes would be helpful. My intention in trying to share the broader scope of this project was purely as courtesy and to provide context, not because it was a necessity. It's possible I've been overthinking this and creating unnecessary complications on my end, so a quick conversation would help me make sure I'm aligned with the way Spray prefers to operate.

To be transparent, the process has been slowed down quite a bit on our end due to the NDA language, and that's been a little disappointing only because it has prevented us from moving forward with real development. We've even had to refile the provisional patent because the timeline stretched so far beyond what we expected.

That said, I understand Spray has internal policies you need to follow, and I'm not trying to push against them. I simply want to make sure I'm not asking for something unclear or creating complications unintentionally. A brief conversation would help me understand exactly what your team needs from me and how we can proceed within the structure you're comfortable with.

I haven't shared the broader scope of the project yet because I've been waiting for an agreement that protects both sides. But your team may not need that top-down view to do your part effectively, and if keeping the collaboration focused simplifies things, I'm completely fine with that.

From our side, the formulation targets remain:

- Foaming aerosol cleanser
- Peppermint essential oil included
- Lockdown actuator
- Approx. 48-inch vertical spray
- Approx. 30-inch diameter spray pattern

I believe we can still move forward and achieve these performance goals while staying within a limited, well-defined scope. I'm more than willing to adjust the workflow to whatever best fits Spray's process.

I really do appreciate your time and expertise, and I'm trying to navigate this industry the right way. A short call would go a long way in making sure we're aligned and can continue productively.

My availability is wide open — just let me know what works for your schedule.

Very respectfully,

Jacob

760-490-3416