Dear Dr. Grinshpun,

I'm Jacob Bevier of Brag & Bev LLC. Our aerosol prototype currently delivers deodorizer-level performance (good coverage, reach). We want to elevate it to a real cleanser while navigating VOC constraints. For that, we need technical expertise in spray testing, formulation, and hardware pairing.

I believe your work in health-related aerosol studies could be a strong match. If you have ~20 minutes, could we set up a call to discuss whether this is something your team could help with? I can send over our test results & key constraints in advance.

Thank you for your consideration,

Jacob Bevier
