

From: Jacob Bevier bevier19jac@icloud.com

Subject: Re: Next Steps while MNDA is being reviewed

Date: November 19, 2025 at 10:34:58 AM

To: Andrew Wills awills@sprayproducts.com

Cc: Jim Johnson jjohnson@sprayproducts.com, Joyce Stasky joyce@sprayproducts.com, sarahjbraganini@gmail.com sarahjbraganini@gmail.com

Hi Andrew,

Thank you again for the quick response. I completely understand Spray needing to follow its internal policies, and I genuinely appreciate you being upfront about it. I want to emphasize that we're grateful to even be at the table.

My concern isn't about distrust at all. It's simply that I have a responsibility to protect the aspects of the product that are already covered under our patent filing. Section 4, in its current form, overlaps with those required protections, which is why my counsel flagged it.

Since modifying the MNDA isn't an option, I think the best path forward is to strictly stay within the defined boundaries of the project so we can continue making progress without touching any of the protected mechanisms. From our side, those requirements remain:

- Foaming aerosol formulation
- Lockdown actuator
- Approximately 48-inch vertical spray height
- Around a 30-inch diameter spray pattern

This keeps everything clean and ensures we're aligned on a safe scope that doesn't conflict with either party's obligations.

We're excited to continue working with you and want to do everything we can to keep this moving forward the right way.

Let me know what you guys think, we have spent a lot of time on this NDA and I would hate to lose the momentum we've gained to this point.

Very respectfully,
Jacob Bevier

7604903416

On Nov 19, 2025, at 9:19 AM, Andrew Wills <awills@sprayproducts.com> wrote:

Good Morning Jacob,

Thanks for the feedback.

At this time, we are unable to modify the MNDA we offered to you.

To be clear, we are interested in the aerosol manufacturing for you and not the IP of your device.

If you are able to execute the MNDA provided as is we can proceed and if not that is okay too.

We are not trying to be difficult but as you can imagine we field many requests for unique developments and do have policies in place for our agreements we need to follow.

Thanks,

AW

From: Jacob Bevier <bevier19jac@icloud.com>

Sent: Tuesday, November 18, 2025 12:41 PM

To: Andrew Wills <awills@sprayproducts.com>; Jim Johnson <jjohnson@sprayproducts.com>

Cc: Joyce Stasky <joyce@sprayproducts.com>; sarahjbraganini@gmail.com

Subject: Re: Next Steps while MNDA is being reviewed

Good afternoon Andrew and Jim,

I reviewed the NDA with my counsel, and there are only two clarifications they require before I can sign. These aren't changes to the business terms — just standard IP protection language for founders who are bringing an existing patent-pending product to a manufacturer for evaluation.

While we are coming to Spray for assistance with the formulation, we're still not entering this as a typical vendor seeking standard filling or contract manufacturing services. We are approaching this as a company with a patent-pending invention that includes proprietary mechanisms, geometry, and product functionality already in development. In these situations, industry standards handle IP differently because the inventor must retain rights to their pre-existing and independently developed technology.

At the moment, Section 4 includes language stating that:

- "any protocol, software, algorithm, technique and/or methodology developed during its association with Spray shall be the property of Spray,"
- the other party "shall not file any application for seeking intellectual property rights," and
- the other party "shall not oppose" any intellectual property application filed by Spray.

This wording is not acceptable for companies presenting patented or patent-pending technology, because it can unintentionally transfer ownership of the inventor's IP or restrict their ability to protect improvements. These provisions are appropriate for vendors or contractors working for Spray, but not for an external company sharing its own proprietary invention with Spray for evaluation and potential collaboration.

To avoid that misunderstanding, my counsel requires two standard clarifications:

1. Each party retains ownership of their pre-existing and independently-developed intellectual property.
2. Any jointly developed work would require a separate written agreement outside of the NDA.

These points are industry-standard whenever a company shares a patent-pending concept with a potential manufacturing or formulation partner. They don't expand our rights or limit Spray's rights in any way — they simply ensure that the NDA operates strictly as a confidentiality agreement, not an unintended IP assignment.

I would also like the NDA to explicitly state that this version supersedes any previous version circulated or discussed, to ensure both parties are aligned on the final governing document.

I hope these terms are acceptable and something you can work with. We're excited to move forward and want to keep everything clean and clear on both sides, so this is really just a legal housekeeping step. I'm happy to sign immediately once those clarifications are included.

Very respectfully, Jacob Bevier 7604903416

On Nov 13, 2025, at 3:04 PM, Jacob Bevier <bevier19jac@icloud.com> wrote:

Understood, I will get back with you hopefully tomorrow, if not early next week once we speak with legal.

Ready to get this thing going!

Very respectfully, Jacob Bevier 7604903416

On Nov 12, 2025, at 8:56 AM, Andrew Wills <awills@sprayproducts.com> wrote:

Jacob,

We are not going to be able to execute this with your edits. In particular section 4 is problematic.

I can assure you that the language in our original MNDA protects your IP and our's.

Thanks,

AW

From: Jacob Bevier <bevier19jac@icloud.com>

Sent: Tuesday, November 11, 2025 4:29 PM

To: Andrew Wills <awills@sprayproducts.com>

Cc: Jim Johnson <jjohnson@sprayproducts.com>; Sarah Braganini <sarahjbraganini@gmail.com>; Joyce Stasky <joyce@sprayproducts.com>

Subject: Re: Next Steps while MNDA is being reviewed

Please find attached a tracked-changes version aligning Spray's Mutual NDA with the previously executed Brag & Bev form—updated governing law (Michigan), clarified Purpose, and reciprocal IP ownership.

Very respectfully, Jacob Bevier 7604903416

On Nov 11, 2025, at 3:14 PM, Andrew Wills <awills@sprayproducts.com> wrote:

Jacob,

I am going to need a redline/marked up NDA to review if you are making changes to the document I sent. Or, we can proceed with our MNDA that I sent in the attached.

Thanks,

AW

From: Andrew Wills

Sent: Monday, November 3, 2025 10:09 AM

To: 'Jacob Bevier' <bevier19jac@icloud.com>

Cc: Jim Johnson <jjohnson@sprayproducts.com>; Sarah Braganini <sarahjbraganini@gmail.com>;

Joyce Stasky <joyce@sprayproducts.com>

Subject: RE: Next Steps while MNDA is being reviewed

Thank you. We will get back to you by EOW or early next week, our team is at a trade show all week.

Thanks,

AW

From: Jacob Bevier <bevier19jac@icloud.com>

Sent: Monday, November 3, 2025 10:04 AM

To: Andrew Wills <awills@sprayproducts.com>

Cc: Jim Johnson <jjohnson@sprayproducts.com>; Sarah Braganini <sarahjbraganini@gmail.com>;

Joyce Stasky <joyce@sprayproducts.com>

Subject: Re: Next Steps while MNDA is being reviewed

Yes this is the one we amended. I just went ahead and signed it as well.

Very respectfully, Jacob Bevier 7604903416

On Nov 3, 2025, at 9:54 AM, Andrew Wills <awills@sprayproducts.com> wrote:

Jacob,

Do you have an NDA that you would like to use? The one we sent is our standard MNDA which has already been vetted by counsel. If you have one you are more comfortable with please send as amending our current MNDA will take more time.

Thanks,

AW

From: Jacob Bevier <bevier19jac@icloud.com>

Sent: Monday, November 3, 2025 9:47 AM

To: Andrew Wills <awills@sprayproducts.com>

Cc: Jim Johnson <jjohnson@sprayproducts.com>; Sarah Braganini <sarahjbraganini@gmail.com>; Joyce Stasky <joyce@sprayproducts.com>

Subject: Re: Next Steps while MNDA is being reviewed

Hey Andrew,

Hope you've all been doing well. I must have missed your note last week, but I've reattached both versions here — the original MNDA with the redline revisions and our updated version that reflects our preferred language. Please let me know if anything needs clarification or if you'd like to set up a quick call to discuss.

I completely understand that legal reviews can take time, but we're eager to get this finalized so both sides can move forward. The sooner we have the NDA squared away, the sooner our mechanical engineers can begin modeling the can dimensions and moving the prototype into the next stage.

We're really looking forward to collaborating and getting the ball rolling — this project has a ton of potential, and we're excited to make progress together.

Very respectfully, Jacob Bevier 7604903416

On Oct 29, 2025, at 12:44 PM, Andrew Wills <awills@sprayproducts.com> wrote:

Can you resend the red line version?

Thanks,

AW

From: Jacob Bevier <bevier19jac@icloud.com>

Sent: Wednesday, October 29, 2025 12:42 PM

To: Andrew Wills <awills@sprayproducts.com>

Cc: Jim Johnson <jjohnson@sprayproducts.com>; Sarah Braganini

<sarahjbraganini@gmail.com>; Joyce Stasky <joyce@sprayproducts.com>

Subject: Re: Next Steps while MNDA is being reviewed

Yes we did change things, our legal team sent a whole different NDA.

Very respectfully, Jacob Bevier 7604903416

On Oct 29, 2025, at 12:30 PM, Andrew Wills
<awills@sprayproducts.com> wrote:

Jacob,

I will have the NDA to you. You did not change anything within it correct?

Thanks,

AW

From: Jacob Bevier <bevier19jac@icloud.com>

Sent: Wednesday, October 29, 2025 12:13 PM

To: Andrew Wills <awills@sprayproducts.com>

Cc: Jim Johnson <jjohnson@sprayproducts.com>; Sarah Braganini

<sarahjbraganini@gmail.com>; Joyce Stasky <joyce@sprayproducts.com>

Subject: Re: Next Steps while MNDA is being reviewed

Hi Andrew and Jim,

I hope you're both doing well. I just wanted to check in regarding the MNDA review and see if there's any feedback or revisions needed from your side. I completely understand how busy things can get, but we're very eager to move forward and start the next phase of development with you and your team.

Our entire group is genuinely excited about this collaboration and confident that Spray Products is the right partner to help bring this concept to life. Please let me know if there's anything you need from me to help keep things moving — I'm happy to adjust or clarify anything in the NDA if necessary.

Looking forward to hearing from you soon.

Very respectfully,

Jacob Bevier

Co-Founder | Brag & Bev LLC

On Oct 14, 2025, at 3:32 PM, Jacob Bevier
<bevier19jac@icloud.com> wrote:

Thanks Andrew, good to know. I know our legal team changed quite a bit so for me to say exactly what, would be doing you a disservice. I know they preferred it in Michigan but yes please review. There really is not a huge rush most of the team is offline for the next week.

Very respectfully, Jacob Bevier

Brag & Bev LLC 7604903416

On Oct 14, 2025, at 3:10 PM, Andrew Wills
<awills@sprayproducts.com> wrote:

Jacob,

I need to review the NDA, I did not see any markups so if you can advise what was changed that would help.

Thanks,

AW

From: Jacob Bevier <bevier19jac@icloud.com>

Sent: Tuesday, October 14, 2025 3:08 PM

To: Jim Johnson <jjohnson@sprayproducts.com>

Cc: Andrew Wills <awills@sprayproducts.com>; Sarah Braganini

<sarahjbraganini@gmail.com>; Joyce Stasky <joyce@sprayproducts.com>

Subject: Re: Next Steps while MNDA is being reviewed

Good afternoon,

I know everyone is busy and I just want to make some kind of contact. Definitely not trying to pester, just trying to be persistent. Especially after our great call, and the feedback Jim already gave in regards to his testing. Also want to make sure the NDA makes everyone happy.

I called up to Spray Products this afternoon and spoke to Joyce. She asked me to copy her into this conversation. Thank you Joyce and I appreciate you all. We are really looking forward to this collaboration!

Speak soon.

Very respectfully, Jacob Bevier

Brag & Bev LLC 7604903416

On Oct 14, 2025, at 9:04 AM, Jacob Bevier
<bevier19jac@icloud.com> wrote:

Hey Jim,

Hope you had a wonderful long weekend. Eager to speak to you so please reach out at your earliest convenience.

I had met with the team and told them you were already testing formulations and were excited to learn more about the full scope of the project. Everyone was extremely happy to hear I had found a possible solution, so if there are issues with the NDA or anything else please don't hesitate to let me know.

Hope to talk to you soon Jim!

Very respectfully,

Jacob Bevier

Brag & Bev LLC

7604903416

On Oct 6, 2025, at 11:56 AM, Jim Johnson
<jjohnson@sprayproducts.com> wrote:

Hi Jacob,

It was nice meeting you.

Not knowing your current devise concept, I worked on 2 prototypes last week.

1. Standard aerosol with a lock down fogger and a string attached to lower down into the container.
2. Standard aerosol with a lock down fogger and a base made of cardboard, to ensure the can is right side up, dropped down into the container.

Let's complete the NDA and we can get moving on this development.

Thanks! Jim

From: bevier19jac@icloud.com <bevier19jac@icloud.com>

Sent: Monday, October 6, 2025 10:28 AM

To: Jim Johnson <jjohnson@sprayproducts.com>

Cc: Andrew Wills <awills@sprayproducts.com>; Sarah Braganini

<sarahjbraganini@gmail.com>

Subject: Next Steps while MNDA is being reviewed

Hey Jim,

Hope you are well and had a great weekend!

I thought I was losing my mind and could only find my correspondence with Andrew and couldn't find your information.

Well, I finally found it, and I am reaching out to see what the next steps are as we have decided collectively that we would like to use your services. Obviously, the NDA is first, right now it is being reviewed by our legal team.

In the interim is there anything we can do? I really like our initial conversation, and I am eager to discuss this further and start putting the pieces of this puzzle together. Please let me know what you think, and I am available anytime.

Look forward to hearing from you Jim and have a great Monday! Talk soon.

Very respectfully,

Jacob Bevier

Co-founder

Brag & Bev LLC

760 490-3416

<Brag_Bev_NDA_SprayProducts.pdf>

<Mail Attachment.eml>